Keynote Speaker: Scott Kovarovics

The Izaak Walton League's Executive Director

Scott started with League in 2008 as the League's Conservation Director. In that capacity, he advanced the League's commonsense conservation agenda in the areas of clean water and energy, sustainable agriculture, outdoor education for youth, and more. He became the League's Executive Director in July 2012.

Prior to joining the Izaak Walton League, Scott served as senior legislative policy associate at the National Recreation and Parks Association, and prior to that as manager of federal affairs for the American Society of Landscape Architects. Early in his career, he served in the office of U.S. Congressman Sam Gejdenson, including as chief of staff and legislative director. Kovarovics earned a bachelor's degree in political science from George Washington University and a master's in public administration from American University.

Over the last several years, Scott has worked tirelessly to promote the League. Most recently he helped usher in the League's 100 Year Anniversary celebration. Along with that, to focus our vision on the next 100 Years. He'll talk to our current and future efforts on water quality/testing, soil health as it relates to agriculture, the Farm Bill and most importantly citizen participation. How we, as lowa Division lke's, can help the League achieve its goals.

NOTES

We give thanks to our IOWA DIVISION members who have contributed countless volunteer hours to our conservation causes. Many of them have published letters/articles related to our causes throughout this past year. We are especially grateful to our lowa Division President, Dale Braun and our Conservation Director, Mike Delaney who have continued to demonstrate this through their words and action on the groundleading the Izaak Walton League into the next century at the forefront.
